

A large blue-bordered frame containing a series of horizontal lines for writing. Each writing unit consists of a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line. There are seven such units stacked vertically, providing space for handwriting practice.